SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1745.

Extract of a private Letter from Leghorn, dated August the 29th, 1745.

HE Gallies belonging to the King of Sardinia have been lately out on a Cruise, and brought in three Prizes. We have Five English Men of War in the Port, and a great Number of Prizes made by them; particularly a Ship bound from Lisbon to Genoa, very richly laden. This Kind of War goes on very briskly, with which the King of Sardinia is not altogether so well satisfied; tho' it affects the Genoese Trade extremely, it affords him no Relief; and at the same time gives Occasion to several neutral Powers to complain. The Riccardi, who was arrested at Oniglia, for the Correspondence he held in the Sardinian Camp, has been sent to Villa Franca, the Garrison of which Place consists at present but of 300 Men; and the Government, in order to keep the Inhabitants in awe, has barricaded the Streets, and pointed two Cannon from the Castle upon the Town. The Genoese are so far from identifying, or from endeavouring to obtain a Peace, that they have actually sent a Reinforcement of 1000 Men to the Count de Gages; which some suppose to one Thing, and some to another; but the most likely Cause is, the Knowledge they have that the Monarch has form'd a Design of depriving them of Corsica.

There have been so many strange Stories scattered all over the World, on the Subject of this Island, that it is not easy to discern Truth from Falshood, or to know what Credit is due to any of the Reports about it. But of these, the most rational we have heard for some time, is this; That it has been suggested to the King of Sardinia, that since it was so difficult to come to the Marquisate of Final, it might not be amiss to take up with the Kingdom of Corsica; that the King was very willing to accept him for their Sovereign; that his Interest and theirs would accord well; and that the Maritime Powers would be able to maintain him in the Possession of this Island to his Dominions. It is not known, however, how the King relishes this Proposition; but it is generally thought here, that he will not put himself to the Expence in order to obtain it; the rather, because it is certain, that the Three Crowns have guaranteed to the State of Genoa every Foot of its Dominions; so that it is foreseen he would find great Difficulty in getting this Island confirm'd to him by a general Peace. Besides, his Views have been always directed to the Continent; and what he chiefly labours to obtain a Trade on the Sea Coast, in order to favour the Trade of his Subjects in Piedmont; which would be very little assisted by his becoming Sovereign of Corsica. Add to this, that at present his Affairs are so full, that he has not Leisure to concern himself to execute any new Schemes; so that if he obtains this Island, it must be given him by his

VII. That a Man has no Opportunities of learning how to govern the People of England in any Foreign Country, so well as in France.

VIII. That Ten Millions of People should rather chuse to fall into Slavery, than not acknowledge their Prince to be invested with an hereditary and indefeasible Right of Oppression.

IX. That we are obliged, in Conscience, to become Subjects of a Duke of Savoy, or of a French King, rather than enjoy, for our Sovereign, a Prince, who is the First of the Royal Blood in the Protestant Line.

X. That Non-resistance is the Duty of every Christian whilst he is in a good Place.

XI. That we ought to profess the Doctrine of Passive-obedience, until such Time as Nature rebels against Principle; that is, until we are put to the Necessity of resisting it.

XII. That the Papists have taken up Arms to defend the Church of England, with the utmost Hazard of their Lives and Fortunes.

XIII. That there is an unwarrantable Faction in this Island, consisting of King, Lords and Commons.

XIV. That the Legislature, when there is a Majority of Whiggs in it, has no Power to make Laws.

XV. That an Act of Parliament to empower the King to secure suspected Persons in Time of Rebellion, is the Means to establish the Sovereign on the Throne; and, consequently, a great Infringement on the Liberty of the Subject.

L O N D O N.

Letters from Hamburg, dated September 15, say, that there was no doubt to be made of there being a Negotiation commenc'd between the Courts of Berlin and Dresden, and that it was believed to be under the Mediation of that of Petersbourg; because, the Russian Resistant there, on seeing the King of Prussia's Manifesto, asserted, that it was not a Declaration of War, and that it would be a very easy Matter for the two Monarchs to adjust the Disputes that were between them, without leaving them to the Decision of the Sword.

We learn from Liege, that a Person, who had the Appearance of a Man of Figure, was arrested on the 13th Instant, N. S. and conducted to Prison; but whether at the Instance of any Foreign Power, or for any Offence committed against the Bishop and Prince of that City, was not known. The same Letters say, that they had received from Frankfort, the News of the Imperial Election, and that the French Party there seem to be extremely disconcerted.

The last Letters from Paris say, that his Most Christian Majesty, immediately after his Arrival, and the Rejoicings occasioned thereby were over, held a great Council of State; in which it was resolv'd, that his Forces should be augmented next Campaign with 60,000 Men; and that the Expence created thereby, should be defrayed by his new Subjects in the Low Countries. The same Letters say, that the King left positive Orders with M. Saxe to reduce Aeth; and that it was expected his Excellency would be declared Governor of the Netherlands, and reside at Ghent.

The Two Bachelors, —, from Oporto for London, passed by Dartmouth the 9th Instant.

At a Court of Lieutenancy, held on Thursday last, it was order'd that the Six Regiments of Train'd Bands should march, and exercise, on the following Days; viz.

The Red, on Wednesday, Sept. 18; the Blue Friday, the 19th; the Green, Monday, the 23d; the Yellow, Wednesday, the 25th; the Orange, Friday, the 27th; and the White on Monday the 30th.

Yesterday the Son a Perriwig Maker in Lendenhall-street, as he was going through Exchange Alley, in his Way Home from Merchant Taylors School, had the Misfortune to have a Door fall upon him, which kill'd him on the Spot.

Last Thursday Night his Grace the Duke of Montagu arrived at his House in Privy Garden, from his Seat at Broughton in Northamptonshire.

As did also the Right Hon. the Lord Cornwallis, from his Seat in Suffolk, at his House in Dover-street.

Yesterday the Lords, and others, Commissioners for the Affairs of Chelsea College, admitted several superannuated Invalids into a Pension of the said College.

Last Thursday Night died, at his Lodgings in Buckingham Court, Charing-Cross, Mr. Robert Samby, late one of the Chief Clerks in the Pay-Office, Whitehall.

Yesterday several Gentlemen attended Sir William Yonge at the War-Office, with Proposals, as we are inform'd, for raising a Thousand Men for the Service of his Majesty; who are to be furnished with Arms, and proper Officers to instruct them in the Military Way, to be ready on any emergent Occasion.

Yesterday they finish'd the sale of the Lottery Tickets, at the Lottery-Office in Duke-street, Westminster.

Yesterday Twenty-eight Prisoners were tried at the Old Bailey, Five of whom were Capitally Convicted; viz.

Judeth Tiley, for robbing Ford Bolloy, of a Tobacco Box, and Six Shillings in Money, in Moses and Aaron Alley in Whitechapel.

Mary Green, for robbing Richard Wilson, of 15 Guineas, in Well Alley in the Minories, in the Dwelling House of Anne Gile.

Edward Lloyd, and Deborah Lloyd, his Wife, for forging and counterfeiting Shillings, made of base Metal, resembling the current Coin of this Kingdom.

Richard Locker, for robbing Elizabeth Thompson, on the Highway.

Ten were cast for Transportation: And Thirteen Acquitted.

For the last Time this Season, on Monday next, at Ruckholt House, will be a grand Performance of Vocal and Instrumental Musick: Singing by Mr. Lowe.

SCHWANBERG'S LIQUID-SHELL, TO BE DEFENDED UPON IN LUE

GRAVEL and STONE.

THE Rev. Dr. HALES, and others, have demonstrated by various Experiments, That the Virtues of Mrs. Stevens's Medicine for the GRAVEL and STONE, depend upon the SALTS of Lime in the Alicant Soap, and calcin'd Shells; but its enormous Dose renders it so nauseous, that it is almost impossible to take it in a manner sufficient to answer any good End. This, then, will info m such unhappy Persons who are afflicted with the GRAVEL and STONE, That
M. SCHWANBERG, a learned and ingenious Gentleman, well versed in the most abstruse Operations of Chymistry, had a Method of Liquifying calcin'd Shells, so as to become limpid as Rock-water, yet not corrosive. They give almost immediate Relief in the most violent Pains of the GRAVEL, and, if duly persisted in, will, in time, bid fair for dissolving a STONE in the Urinary Passages, when too large to pass off otherwise. They may be depended on in the Wind-Colic, and all Kinds of Flatulences; and, where an Alkali is wanting, will answer the desired End. A Child may take them in the Month, for Griping, Fever, and Uneasinesses, which Children are subject to, from Acidities, the known Cause of most of their Disorders.

It is remarkable, That those who take them for the STONE, have a Sediment in their Urine resembling powdered Chalk: Now, that this Sediment is a Portion of the STONE dissolv'd, is evident from an Experiment in the Power of every one to make; for, put an human STONE, form'd in the Urinary Passages, into a Vial of the LIQUID-SHELL, and it will gradually dissolve into a White Powder, exactly resembling that in the Urine of Persons who take it as a Medicine for the STONE, and this in an Heat not greater than that of the Body, yet, at the same time, not in the least affect a human Hair put therein; and, which surprisingly will, upon the Affusion of an Acid, be instantly converted into a Snow-white Powder.

To be had of the Proprietor W. BAKER, at his House in Helmet-Court, near Katherine-street in the Strand; and, by his Appointment, of R. Lee, Stationer, under the Statuary's, facing Serjeants Inn in Fleet-street; and of John Newbery, at the Golden Ball in Castle Alley, near the Royal Exchange, London; or, at his Printing-Office in Reading, at 1 s. 6 d. the small Vial.

The Dose is from 10 Drops to 30; and not unpleasant.
